SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. At a meeting of the Chinese Communist South China Sub-bureau in Canton on 7 July, FANG Fang, second secretary of the Sub-bureau and deputy governor of Kwangtung, made a speech on the Korean war, as follows:
2. "After five years of building up, North Korea has acquired a strong military force and has established a strong ideological structure modeled on Communism. She is therefore capable of repelling any invasion force alone. The Chinese Communists are naturally concerned, however, and, if North Korea is ever attacked by an invading force, they will certainly offer whatever help is needed. The British and American imperialists who are now helping South Korea are simply plunging deeper into the mire and will ultimately meet the same fate in Korea as the Japanese did in the past.
3. "Now the imperialistic nations, headed by Great Britain and the United States, and the socialist nations, headed by the USSR, are confronting each other, and a direct clash is likely to occur at any time. Until then, however, the USSR will remain calm and will continue to help weaker nations. She will try to avoid any direct clash with the imperialistic nations but will try to break up their alliance and isolate them so that they can be beaten separately. At the same time, the USSR will conduct an all-out revolutionary movement in the Far East by strengthening Communist activities in Indochina, the Philippines, and Indonesia. In this way, the United States will be forced into gradual exhaustion and even into ultimate collapse."
